>> As you know, I send out a mass e-mail to the current SBCA members wrt tonight's meeting on parking placards. I received several e-mails back from people stating that they were in favor of having parking placards back this year and wanted to resume to the parking policy as 2019. Some of the names were Jerry Bateman, Kathleen Scalise, Camille Daly, Ann Kendall, Bobbie Joe Janda, Vicki Mitchell, MaryJean Scholl, Leonard Ichtou, Sheila Fleming (and myself). Please know that I did not ask them all individually for permission to have their names read out loud (it was Easter weekend and I'm back to work today), but I certainly encouraged people in the original e-mail to contact the town directly (yet they still e-mail me, instead). 😞

>> Additional comments included liking how the town makes revenue from the parking fines and how bus (or other vehicles) w/ big drop-offs, need to be banned). Apparently in addition to making the beach crowded, they also leave litter behind.

>> Secondly, as I begin to dig out benches out on the beach paths, residents are asking me if the town is going to "sand blow" the beach paths this year. The residents have requested that if the town doesn't do it, then the SBCA should. Does the DPW plan to sand-blow the paths and if they do (or not), is the SBCA allowed to sand-blow the (on-going) debris out on the paths (on as as-needed basis). Please advise. Thank you!
